While Kokokahi Gymnastics staff is using their best effort to maintain a social and physical distancing environment, there will be times when the children will breach the prescribed distancing recommendation, which is currently 6 feet. In addition, our teaching and coaching staff will spot (physically assist) students when the circumstances require it. Spotting students and athletes is often necessary in order to teach skills safely, help athletes perform skills correctly, and prevent injury.

I am aware that while gymnastics and tumbling activities are individual sports, there will be times when incidental contact will occur. I understand and agree that spotting will be part of the learning process at Kokokahi and agree to permit my child's teacher and/or coach to physically assist my child when needed. Direct assistance may also be provided in the event of an injury.
